Joni and Friends encourages scholarship applicants to seek other funding options in addition to applying for a scholarship from Joni and Friends. Additional funding resources could include, but are not limited to:

- Church, friends, family and local agencies: Families seeking support from these resources often discover continuing support and assistance that lasts far beyond their time at Family Retreat.
- Private and public organizations: These organizations may provide funding based on specific situations and requirements. The Joni and Friends website provides possible resources. CA residents may also find assistance through the local regional center.

Joni and Friends offers limited scholarships to those families meeting the following requirements (pending resources). There is no regard to race, color, gender, national origin, age or family size.

- Joni and Friends awards scholarships on a first-come, first-served basis to one Family Retreat per year.
- Joni and Friends uses available funding to award scholarships that cover a portion of each family's total cost.
- Families attending for the first time will receive priority.
Families applying must have a legitimate financial need and unable to attend Family Retreat without assistance.
- Families must seek assistance from two (2) other sources. This can include family, friends, churches and local agencies.
- In order to process the scholarship application, complete the following information in its entirety.
