

Southern California Fires

Thank you to all of our friends who have expressed concern about how we at the International Disability Center are doing with the fires now plaguing Southern California. We are grateful to God that no fires have threatened our location in Agoura Hills. Please join us in praying for continued safety and for those of our friends and family who have had to evacuate their homes. Please also remember the firemen who are putting their lives on the line to subdue the flames.